Britain Plans Early Action To Cut Consumption of Wheat

By The Canadian Press

Britain announced Saturday night that it would enact wheat-saving measures soon in line with United States action, while Canada and Argentina took steps to increase their food contributions to the world's hungry peoples.

"Cruel," She Says

In LONDON, Prime Minister Churchill declared that the Majesty's government are ready to play their part along with the United States in steps to reduce the consumption of wheat.

"I will shortly announce the measures to be taken in this country for economizing wheat consumption," the statement said.

"The ministers have already given this matter preliminary consideration and will complete their discussions as soon as they resemble after state."

Canada made available an additional 5,000,000 bushels of oats and about 2,500,000 bushels of lower grade wheat for relief of the world food shortage. The measures brought to 31 the steps taken by Canada in the last month to maintain increased food production.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said also that Canada had proposed to the United States that both countries cancel commercial export permits for four percent for export need.

DIRECTOR-GENERAL L. A. G. of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration commented on the Canadian statement.

"At no time did I have the slightest doubt that Canada would do its share in the relief of the world food shortage," he said.

"The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is grateful for the contribution of the United States and Canada to the relief of the world food shortage."

Orders went out closing meat, poultry, fish, and eggs on Sundays and a drive got underway for rationing supplies that make up the bulk of the food supply.

"The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is grateful for the contribution of the United States and Canada to the relief of the world food shortage."

EL LABORISTA, Col. P. S. P. of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, said that the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is grateful for the contribution of the United States and Canada to the relief of the world food shortage.

Monty's New Book May Answer Critics

By BOSS MUNRO

BAD OYENHAUSEN, Germany, April 22.—(CP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery will not make any reply to criticisms of his generalship made by Ralph Ingersoll, New York publisher, in his newly-published book, "Tory Secret."

HOWEVER, THE NOTED commander's answer, probably, will come indirectly in his own new book, "Normandy to Berlin," which will come out within a few months. The book will not be placed on public sale, but will be distributed privately to senior officers and reviewed likely will be permitted.

IN VISITING the United States, Montgomery will relate the whole story of the British and Canadian forces in the 21st Army Group and will deal in detail with the battle of Caen which Mr. Ingersoll termed a "failure" and with the German offensive which he termed a "disaster" in December, 1944, which the publisher also criticized.

IT IS EXPECTED the Field Marshal will show clearly that there was no "failure" at Caen, for it was the intention in the broad Allied plan to draw the German forces to the British and Canadian forces to draw the strongest German troops to the Caen line and hold them there as long as possible.

HE WILL also show that the German offensive was a "disaster" and that the British and Canadian forces were able to hold the line and that the German forces were able to hold the line.

THE ONLY THING which went wrong with the plan is that the German forces were able to hold the line and that the British and Canadian forces were able to hold the line.

HE WILL also show that the German offensive was a "disaster" and that the British and Canadian forces were able to hold the line and that the German forces were able to hold the line.

Soviet Commentator Raps Premier Drew

LONDON, April 22.—(Reuters)—Premier George Drew of Ontario Sunday was accused by the Soviet radio commentator, Lomovsky, of demanding war against the Soviet Union.

In an English language broadcast from Moscow Lomovsky said that Col. Drew had told an audience at Chatham, Ont., to "start fighting the Soviet Union" and had demanded economic sanctions and a blockade against Russia.

"THE NAME OF COL. DREW was known to no one in Europe during the war," said Lomovsky, "but now after the war he moves heaven and earth to make himself known through the world. He is convinced that he has been elected to save the world."

TORONTO, April 22.—(CP)—Premier Drew of Ontario last night repeated the Soviet radio commentator Lomovsky, who said that Col. Drew had told an audience at Chatham, Ont., to "start fighting the Soviet Union" and had demanded economic sanctions against Russia.

"What I said at Chatham is on record, and bears no resemblance to the typical fabrication of Mr. Lomovsky," said Premier Drew.

At Chatham, April 6, Premier Drew said the democratic nations now are faced with a challenge as great as that for which they went to war. The challenge was that of feeding the starving peoples of Europe and Asia and thereby preventing them from accepting communism to which they would turn in their dire need unless fed.

"THE THREAT of totalitarianism hanging over Europe and Asia today is greater than at any time during the threat of Nazism, Fascism or Stalinism," he said. To combat the threat he advocated the policy of "non-appearance" with an all-out food production program.

Meetings Will Resume Thursday Conference Group to Map Projects, Social Services

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April 22.—The co-ordinating committee of the Dominion-provincial conference resumes its meeting here next Thursday and on the outcome depends such things as the rate of taxation for this year, the carrying out of reconstruction projects and the inauguration of new social services.

AS MATTERS now stand, the federal government does not know just what revenues it can count on this year because the conference has been unable to reach final agreement on the division of fields of taxation.

The provincial premiers and federal authorities last met in February and it was understood the work was paved for final agreement at the coming meeting.

IT WAS LEARNED the provinces agreed to vacate the land and corporation tax fields in favor of the Dominion, providing they were given exclusive jurisdiction in the succession duties field.

It was understood this agreement came about after the Dominion offered to increase from $12 to $15 the per capita subsidy to the provinces for vacating the tax fields. It was believed the Dominion gave assurance it would raise the tax fields as gasoline, amusements, racetrack pari-mutuels, telephone, telegraph, electricity and others.

THE EFFECTIVE REMEDY for this will be the use of proper garbage collecting wagons, and these are being sought by the city. In the meantime the board suggests that greater effort be made to prevent such refuse being distributed in the streets from garbage wagons. The board also points out that complaints have been received concerning the use of proper garbage cans with the consequent scattering of garbage about the streets. It is suggested by the board that dogs do most of the upsetting, and it is recommended that council prohibit dogs running at large in the city, or alternatively require all citizens to fix garbage cans by staking or other support so that they are impossible for animals to upset them.

Spanish Stowaway Held at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, April 22.—(CP)—Immigration authorities here yesterday were holding in custody a 21-year-old Spanish youth, Jeronimo Del Rosario, who arrived aboard the British freighter Lodestone as a stowaway from the Canary Islands.

Hoping desperately that he will not be sent home, Rosario said "if I am sent back to Las Palmas I will be sent to jail for deserting from the country."

Two other stowaways were discovered aboard the Lodestone before she sailed but Rosario hid in the boat deck unnoticed until the ship was two days at sea.

Now he would like to stay on the ship or remain in Canada to get a job. His fate is up to immigration officials.

American People Get Less Bread

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—The United States went on short bread rations today.

The cut was ordered by the government as part of a world-wide effort to beat off the worst famine threat in nearly 400 years. Its goal was to save another 25,000,000 bushels of wheat for export.

IT MEANS THAT during the next 70 critical days, Americans will have at least 25 per cent less bread and other wheat products than they had during the corresponding period of 1945.

The bread cut will be felt immediately because bread is made on a day-to-day basis. The reduction in such packed and stored items as cereals and spaghetti will be felt more gradually.

As a result of the cutback, representatives of the baking industry planned to meet with OPA officials immediately to discuss price increases. They feel bread prices should be raised about a cent a loaf to offset the loss in production.

MEANWHILE, the federal trade commission charged that many bakeries were continuing to waste flour by disregarding the government ban on "consignment selling." This is the practice whereby retailers can return unsold bread to bakeries without charge.

In a report released by President Truman, the U.S. commission said countless loaves of day-old bread still were being sold as livestock feed or "thrown into the river" as result of the practice.

Nevertheless, the commission estimated that the U.S. Government prohibition succeeded in saving enough bread last year to give 10 loaves each to 46,467,000 persons. The savings could have been still greater, it said, if all bakeries co-operated.

THE COMMISSION called on bakery officials, drivers and retailers to wipe out the waste of wheat seedlings, waste in the current food emergency. It also suggested that Congress should look into the possibility of drafting legislation to make the prohibition permanent.

The U.S. government was busy with other programs to increase food supplies, including the purchase and export of 500,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bushels of corn out of farm storage bins by May 25.

Russia Rationing To End Next Year

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT

Canada's great natural resources provide rich soil in which small industries take firm root. Carefully cultivated... they grow with every new, scientific invention which better serves the needs of mankind.

Consider, for instance, the announcement that a new type of electric brooder for poultry is being planned... a tiny effort of Canadian ingenuity. How small it seems when compared with automobiles, agricultural implements, structural steel and machinery... all stemming from the same source. Yet there are 148 plants producing various iron and steel products, that employ fewer than 100 people each, which provide a livelihood for 13,860 individuals and their dependents.

It is these small and diversified businesses which promise to contribute most to Canada's prosperity in the years to come. Banking credit is one of the essentials in the development of these small businesses and this Bank will co-operate in bringing to fruition the plans of enterprising Canadians.

Shadow of War Swept Away Peacetime Easter Observed By Christians Around World

By The Canadian Press

A thankful Christian world, no longer under the shadows of war, yesterday celebrated the most joyous day of the church year—Easter.

HO SANNAH were sung throughout christendom, marking the end of the solemn lenten season and erasing the gloom of Good Friday.

Clergy recounted the old Easter story with its promise of everlasting life in every corner of the world.

In the United States, President Truman and his family celebrated the festival by unobtrusively attending Easter services at the First Baptist church in Washington.

Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, worshipped at St. Margaret's Episcopal church earlier.

From Vatican City, Pope Pius XII called on leaders to be courageous and to fight "evil" forces.

He urged "diverse, godless schools and unbridled books and licentious entertainment" as threats to Christian morality.

ENGLAND HAD DOUBLE cause for celebration. The 20th birthday of Princess Elizabeth fell on Easter.

Canadian churches packed for traditional Easter services but weather generally unseasonable with rain in northern Ontario and temperatures down to freezing at several points.

The feast fell on the same date in both eastern and western churches in the Christian world.

The difference in calendars used by the two churches—the Julian in the east and the Gregorian in the west—brought Easter to the same day in 1946.

Plan to get out in the sun this summer? Well, start now to give your body special beauty care. Salt scrubs, then icy-cold showers condition your skin and your body. Follow the showers by a massage with oil or cream. Then the sun won't be nearly so difficult to face.

The shipbuilding industry was the biggest user of steel in wartime years, consuming more than 35,000, 000 tons.

The huge structure, above, was turned into a raging furnace in a matter of minutes as winds from Lake Ontario fanned flames which did $225,000 damage. ### ENLARGED TONSILS

An enlarged tonsil is by no means always a diseased tonsil, and many surgeons are of the opinion that tonsils which are simply enlarged should be left in the throat. This opinion is considerably different from the opinion of 20 years ago, when tonsils were almost always removed.

The tonsils are lymphoid structures belonging to the lymphatic system and are placed in the throat for the purpose of filtering out waste material present in the lymphatic circulation. The tonsils undoubtedly have an important work to do in detoxicating the lymphatic system from the neighborhood of the throat and mouth. Broken-down material which is being drained away through the lymphatics passes through the tonsils and are then screened out.

Many a British says: "England does better under a queen. And Princess Elizabeth is a normal, healthy, sensible girl, thank God."

My Card Authority

I dropped in at the card room last night just in time to see Larry McKewen make his contract on today's hand. Many contracts are lost because players fail to take into account the fact that the trump may be bunched against them, but McKewen did not make this mistake.

Removal of the enlarged tonsils is no way to remove the cause which made the tonsils enlarge in the first place and after such removal, the patient may then develop acute tonsillitis, bronchitis, ear disorders or some other disease which is regarded as a new development. The fact that the expression of the same toxic condition which first affected the tonsils and, being allowed to remain, is now affecting some other part of the body.

Those desiring additional information are invited to send for my article on Tonsil Trouble, which discusses tonal disorders in detail. The article designed for children's cases and is available for $1.00. ## Alexander: Biography in Brief

Viscount Alexander of Tunis, General of Canada, was in County Tyrone, Ireland, in 1935, third son of the Earl of Cairns.

He went to Harrow, famed British school, where he showed great promise as an athlete, excelling in cricket, football and running.

On graduation from the great military college of Sandhurst, he was gazetted as second lieutenant in the Irish Guards at the age of 20.

Within a week of the outbreak of war in 1914 Alexander joined the 1st Battalion of the Irish Guards, and for four years of bitter fighting he remained on the Western Front.

In the battles of Mons, the Marne, Zeebrugge and Arras, he was always to be found. Some 20 times he went over the top and was wounded twice.

At 23, in 1917, he was acting lieutenant-colonel and made a member of the Legion of Honour, decorated with the MC and DSO for his conspicuous gallantry in the field.

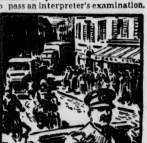

A seasoned soldier, though still at his 20's, the future field marshal was in Britain with the 10th Army School at the time of the Armistice.

A year or so later he set himself the task of learning Russian, and became so proficient he was able to pass an interpreter's examination.

Duty called him to make the long journey to the Northwest Frontier of India, where he was given command of a brigade there in 1920.

Commanding the 1st Division, Gen. Alexander was again among the first British troops to land in Persia in 1920.

At first he looked the defeat, for the Germans over France, forcing the BEF back to the coast. On May 23, 1940, Gen. Gort handed over command to Alexander.

During the worst hours at Dunk he kept his men at gun point, and in fact, he was the only British officer to land in the sand.

He was the last member of the BEF to leave Dunkerque, after making a final round with the British naval aviator officer. Gen. Alexander, 1st Lord of the Realm, was left on shore, they themselves left for England.

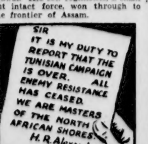

Back to a Britain almost unharmed, Alexander rebuilt his command, and helped plan battle training schools and co-operation with RAF.

August, 1942, found Alexander in Egypt, planning, with Prime Minister Churchill, the first and only campaign to begin at El Alamein and end in Berlin.

As the conversation proceeded the Pope frequently gestured with his long, aristocratic hands and light reflected against his papal ring, set with a deep sapphire stone. He smiled frequently and spoke in soft, even tones, often graciously conceding points on many subjects in most democratic fashion.

It takes about a half acre of corn to produce enough alcohol to make 100 cases of whisky.

As a deputy to Gen. Eisenhower, he pursued the enemy in North Africa and north through Italy to victory, as commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, youngest field marshal in the Empire.

Seen As One Shining Hope Pope Looks to United States Lead World From Confusion

By HARRY FERGUSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

(Copyright, 1946, in All Countries by the British United Press)
VATICAN CITY, April 22.—(BUP)—Pope Pius today granted an audience to the United Press and my impression is that His Holiness is looking to the United States as a shining hope to lead the world out of post-war confusion and to help win the present desperate fight against the threat of famine in many lands.

SEATED IN HIS vast, walled library beyond a brown wooden desk covered with red felt, the pope discussed world problems frankly for twenty-seven minutes. His conversation moved easily between English and Italian.

The supreme pontiff appeared in perfect health and gave the impression of having a thorough grasp of world problems. He was attired in white robes, a white skull cap and wore the pectoral cross.

PAYING WARM tribute to the traditional generosity of the American people, the pope repeatedly expressed hope that the western world would continue to make a major contribution to alleviate humanity's present dire need for food.

I believe that the pontiff has confidence that South America, particularly Argentina—which the holy father singled out in discussion of famine threats—will help to rescue great numbers of the human race who have insufficient bread.

PARTICIPATING in the audience were Virgil Pinna, British United Press, vice-president for Europe, and J. Edward Murray, Rome manager of the United Press.

We drew an American jeep through the sunny streets of Rome up to the towering dome of St. Peter's Cathedral and thence turned left to the entrance of the courtyard of St. Damiano and the Apostolic Palace. The blue-clad cardinals with bayoneted rifles came to attention, saluted and examined our credentials briefly, waving us on.

WE ENTERED the Apostolic Palace and ascended by elevator to the second floor. We were escorted to the papal throne room where the pope receives ambassadors and talked briefly with members of the noble guards, wearing blue and gold uniforms and carrying ceremonial weapons. The throne room is a large room, hung in red. The pope's desk is just to the right of the entrance door.

A number of small gilt chairs are brought out and placed in front of the desk when the Pope presides in audience. No books were seen in the room of the library in which we were received. The books are kept in other rooms and brought in by the Pontiff when he desires them.

AT THE END of the audience the Holy Father pressed a button beside his desk, summoning the pontifical guard. We rose and the Holy Father extended to us his personal blessing with a gentle movement of his right hand in the sign of the cross.

We went through three rooms in the Pope's private apartments in each of which was stationed a member of the noble guard who saluted us as we passed. Finally we came to a plain wooden door where the monsignor-in-waiting opened and ushered us into the papal library.

The Holy Father smiled a welcome as we advanced and bowed and shook hands. We took seats in three red covered chairs before his desk.

THE PONTIFF glanced at our letters of introduction and after the conversation by addressing each of us by name. The discussion proceeded then on the role and function of journalism in world affairs and at the suggestion of the Pope we gave our impressions on conditions in the various countries we had visited.

The Holy Father emphasized the urgent need of a free flow of news and information to all parts of the world, especially at the present time, as a contribution to promoting international peace and stability which he regarded as essential to lasting peace.

THE PONTIFF impressed upon us the great responsibility and opportunity newspapers and radio have to disseminate truly democratic ideas and ideals through the distribution of impartial information.

From discussion of our problems journalists in reporting the news in various parts of the world I gained the impression the holy father has hoped that objective information will continue to circulate and penetrate the areas which have been deprived by war of freedom of thought and expression.

I mentioned the Pope's visit to the United States in 1958 when he was the papal secretary of state and he recalled having travelled across the country by plane. He spoke in warm terms of America as a great and generous country and expressed the belief that the United States would be among the leaders in reconstructing the war-torn world.

AS HAPPENED SO frequently during the audience the conversation turned to food and the Holy Father expressed the urgency of getting any food surplus in the western hemisphere to areas of famine. I received the impression his greatest aspiration was that the needy areas would receive grain from both North and South America, particularly the United States and Argentina.

As the conversation proceeded the Pope frequently gestured with his long, aristocratic hands and light reflected against his papal ring, set with a deep sapphire stone. He smiled frequently and spoke in soft, even tones, often graciously conceding points on many subjects in most democratic fashion.

BEFORE HIM ON the desk was a clock, a brown portfolio filled with papers, and three ordinary pens with steel points standing upright in a box.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Obligations Too Much
For Boy of 17 YearsLad Madly in Love With Girl of 17, His Own Age
Asks If It Is Not All Right to Marry and Raise a Family

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 17 years old and have just graduated from high school. I am madly in love with a girl of my own age and we intend to be married at once. I think that there is nothing better than for a couple to get married and have children while they are young so that they may enjoy a happy family in the flower of their youth rather than wait until they are middle-aged.

Don't you agree with me in this? I think there is nothing truer than the old proverb that "a young man married is a young man married" and that for a boy of 17 to take unto himself a wife is for him to commit a crime not only against himself, but against the poor, silly little girl who accompanies him to the altar.

OF COURSE, miracles happen now and then, and once in a blue moon, a child-marriage escapes going on the rocks, but statistics show that marriages are rarely successful. They end in divorce far oftener than do the marriages of mature people. Let thousands of letters a year from the unhappy married couples practically every one of them begin: "I married too young."

And that is perfectly logical and sane. A child-marriage is a marriage in name only. It is a marriage in name only because the young man and woman are not yet old enough to be responsible for the consequences of their actions.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband here is the trouble with us. While he was in the service I was told that when the time came and he was back I felt that he should take care of me. And you're home from work and that when we go out, but my husband won't go with me. But my husband won't go with me. But my husband won't go with me.

LLP Party to Pay
Expenses For Rose

SASKATCHEWAN, Sask., April 21.—(CP)—A defence fund to pay legal expenses incurred by Fred Rose, MP, will be established across Canada by the Labor-Progressive party, Nelson Clark, Saskatchewan party leader, said here Saturday.

Mr. Clark said the Labor-Progressive party planned to have D. M. Pitt, K.C. Labor member of the British House of Commons to act as counsel for Mr. Rose, who is charged in connection with the party's national executive has been assured by Mr. Rose that he is innocent of the charges laid against him and the party will accept this statement until it is proven false, Mr. Clark said.

cutting while he was in the army and that you were being simply martyred in having to stay at home and look after the baby. Let me assure you, in case you haven't read anything about in the papers, that Guam and two Jims were no picnic and that it wasn't any fun sleeping in foxholes and shoving through jungles and facing death and danger. The men who have had three or four years of that have come back tired and worn and wrecked, and their wives should have some sympathy for them and give them a chance to rest up instead of trying to turn them into nurse maids.

DEAR MISS DIX: Here is a problem that confronts many of us teenagers: How can we get rid of the boys who come to spend an evening with us and stay and stay until they wear out their welcome?

LEETEE TENG-AGERS
ANSWER: If the boys can't get rid of us, we can get rid of them. We can get rid of them by being a little bit more assertive and by being a little bit more assertive.

Why Grow Old?

by Josephine Lowman

IF WE were to make a survey of adolescent boys and girls I imagine pimples or complexion trouble of some kind would be the number one problem. You certainly cannot be number one on the hit parade if you have pimples.

During adolescence the "little old glands" in the skin are more active than usual. This predisposes one to blackheads and pimples. At the first sign of excessive oiliness, or when the first few pimples appear, action should be taken. This consists of washing the face carefully several times a day.

Use warm soap and water and rinse well. Be certain that your wash cloth is clean. At night apply calamine talcum over the offending areas of the skin. General body hygiene, a daily bath and outdoor sports also will be helpful. Then, for the sake of your complexion you should cut down on candies and rich or greasy foods. Be sure that your diet is vitamin rich and get plenty of fresh fruits and green vegetables and milk and whole wheat. You also require a generous helping of lean meat at least once a day and eggs should be a part of your diet. You see, your health habits and food affect your skin as well as your complexion.

ABOVE ALL, DO NOT pick at your pimples. Many cases of acne are the result of this habit. A few innocent pimples may spread to the surrounding pores because of the handling they receive and the pores they get. Don't squeeze small blackheads. Treat them to soap and water and the stimulation of a complexion brush. They will probably disappear. If you must remove one or two large ones this should be done under the most sterile circumstances and care should be taken to avoid bruising surrounding tissues. If your skin trouble does not respond to this treatment see a skin specialist. Often light treatments are a great help.

IF YOU WISH to have my latest leaflet which was written especially for adolescents send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request for "Popularity," No. 58 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Many adolescents have not a clear, beautiful complexion such as Actress Wanda Hendrix, above. Josephine Lowman has suggestions for those youngsters today.

Super Atom Bombs
Produced by U.S.
BRIGHTON, England, April 22.—(CP)—Prof. Harold J. Laski asserted yesterday the United States has manufactured new atomic bombs so powerful that on demand "devastate the great states of India and China" and five could "destroy the whole of the United States south of the Mason-Dixon line." Dr. Laski said he had "heard" of the new bombs on his last visit to the United States but he did not amplify the reference.

Miss Nancy Jean McLuskie, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. McLuskie, 1901 122 street, who is a member of the West End Edmon-Teens Club, West Glen High school, Nancy hopes to attend the University of Alberta. On Saturday she works in a department store. She collects souvenirs, match box covers and likes to read. She likes hiking, tobogganing, bicycling and dancing. She is a member of Junior High School and West Glen Swing Club and attends First Presbyterian church.

Elizabeth Woodward Says . . .

HOLD HANDS IN PRIVATE
Your back hurts, doesn't it? . . . you're smarting all over from the cold. . . . One of the teachers caught you holding hands with Frank while you were waiting down the corridor. She took that moment, in front of a huge audience, to take you over the coals. You blushed to the roots of your hair while the teacher was going on. . . . You and Frank have no class together, and the only chance you have to see each other during the day is after lunch period for about 10 minutes. You meet him in the recreation room . . . where all the girls meet their boy friends . . . and you snatch a few minutes of chat. You often hold hands. You don't need. Maybe some of the other girls do . . . but you don't.

YOU LIKE FRANK . . . and you think it's your personal business if you like him in public. You'd never even thought of it as cheapening your relationship until your teacher called it that. You never felt guilty about Frank before. And you're furious at that teacher for putting such ideas into your head.

Your teacher spotted you holding Frank's hand . . . and she probably thought the time had come to be rough on somebody . . . there's been too much of it lately. If you and Frank were the only offenders, she could have taken you aside and in a cool, calm whisper told you what she thought of such going-on. But she had more ground to cover than just you and Frank, so she talked out loud.

ASIDE FROM HER approach to the question . . . I think she has something there. But I call it a matter of good taste. Affection in public is bad taste. How you feel about a boy and how he feels about you are your own private concern. There's plenty of time for that when you're alone together. Making even mild love to your boy friend is completely out of place at school.

Your affection is a precious thing. It gets into being spread out for general consumption. And you can't convince me you two thought you were completely alone in that corridor. You knew the other kids were watching. You knew they'd talk. So you used those matched moments as a public address system to let everybody know that you and Frank are that close about each other . . . and he's lucky? It could be you were bragging a bit . . . showing off. And I call that cheap.

tea towel around his middle and fasten it behind the rungs of the chair. He'll know he can't get up and he'll pay attention to his food. IT'S TIME-WASTEFUL to bewail a child's behavior at the family table and then do nothing about it. If he's too young for so much excitement, separate him from it.

Our leaflet No. 44, "Teaching Use of Cup and Spoon," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

The U.S. Department of Commerce estimates that restaurants in 1945 lost 30 per cent of the tourist dollar.
